Ramkrishna Subbaraman

President - Group Public Affairs

Member of the Group Executive Board

Ramki heads Mahindra's Group Public Affairs, and is responsible for external relations including policy-related advocacy. He has a successful record of effective government relations, after a career spanning three and a half decades in various blue chip corporations. Prior to joining Mahindra in 2013, he was with Nokia as Chief Corporate Officer, and was also Chairman of the Board of Nokia India Pvt Ltd. There, he contributed to the development of the National Telecom Policy, the National Manufacturing Policy, and the ESDM policy as it pertained to the mobile sector.

Ramki started his career with the Tata Group and worked with them for 15 years, where his last position was Chief Resident Executive of Tata Steel at Delhi. Later, as Vice President and Senior Director of Pfizer India for over eight years, he successfully led the pharmaceutical industry's advocacy for robust intellectual property laws in India. During his time with Pfizer, he significantly impacted the drafting and passage of three patent amendment laws. He has been a speaker at many seminars and conferences on IPR, including the American Conference on Patents at New York in 2005. He wrote a book called Patents: Advantage India.

He subsequently worked with Caterpillar for four years as Executive Director for India and Southeast Asia, and Vice Chairman of the Board of Caterpillar India. He obtained market access for import of remanufactured goods and components into India; authored a white paper on remanufacturing, and organised an international seminar on the subject.

He led efforts in mining law reforms in India and Indonesia; advocated for inclusion of life cycle costing in government procurement; and successfully lobbied government to include favorable tariff lines in FTAs.

Ramki became the first Chairman of the US India Energy Cooperation Program (ECP), a bilateral signed during President Obama's visit in 2010. Ramki was nominated by the Government to the Board of Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) in 2010. He was also nominated by the Government of India to the Steering Committee on Industry of the Planning Commission of India.

As an active participant in industry affairs, he has served on the National Executive Committee of FICCI and the Managing Committee of ASSOCHAM, and was Chairman of the National Manufacturing Council of ASSOCHAM for four terms. He is also a Fellow of the Institute of Directors, India.

Ramki has been closely associated with a number of philanthropic activities. He guided the Multiple Sclerosis Society of India (MSSI), an NGO providing patient care, earlier as President and presently, as Trustee. He was also on the board of MS International Federation in London. As a volunteer Global Health Fellow, he served in Tanzania and Ethiopia for four months in 2004 with ITI, an NGO engaged in eliminating blinding trachoma.

He has managed several disaster relief activities – first in cyclone-hit Orissa, later in earthquake-hit Bhuj, then in the tsunami affected areas of southern India and Sri Lanka. Other philanthropic activities include developing a ‘Mother to Child Healthcare Programme’ for Arpana Trust, an NGO working to reduce anemia in women of childbearing age. He also worked with HelpAge India on a programme for 7,500 cataract operations for the elderly; and assisted in capacity building for CanSupport, an NGO providing palliative care for cancer patients in Delhi.

Ramki graduated from KC College in Mumbai in 1978 with English Literature and obtained management diplomas from JBIMS, Mumbai and IIM Ahmedabad. He is an alumnus of the Global Senior Management Program of the Booth School of Business, University of Chicago and the IE Business School, Madrid. In 2014, he attended the Mahindra Universe Program for senior leaders at the Harvard Business School. Ramki recently attended the Leaders in Development program at Harvard Kennedy School.

Ramki’s interest in war history and strategy is evident from his huge home library. He loves riding his motorcycle on weekends.
